

How does the memory of water.

In a vessel with water allowed amoeba, and then dropping back a weak acetic acid. Ameba immediately paralyzed, although it is far away, and the acid molecule to reach her too late. Just in the water information on the acid spreads instantaneously throughout the volume of the vessel.

The key here lies in the unusual structure of water. It consists of polimikronnyh cells (they can be considered in a special microscope). In one such cell contains about three million of structural elements, and each of them - 912 molecules that do not break down, forming a super molecule. All water is made up of cubes. As soon as it affects the field, the substance or simply by the mechanical action - get a new combination of elements in the cell, and its properties change. If this combination is energetically favorable, it is transmitted to neighboring cells. This state of water is defined as Information-PHASE. This state and allows us to speak about the memory of water: this means that the original information is restored at every point of the aquatic environment.

The Memory of Water, and the picture of the world.

Open water condition is almost a proof of principle "all around" in all material systems, which becomes the basis for information management, the foundation of life. The matrix of water already has everything that should be in the living cell. No wonder Leonardo da Vinci said that life - it is animated by water.

It is possible that this circumstance with water will help to clarify the road to becoming inanimate matter into living: because life should be an informative program, through which she appeared.

A new look at Darwin's evolutionary concept.

The concept of Darwin in this case requires its revision.

None of the protein molecule could be formed by itself, even for millions of years, the probability of insignificant. Information about life - among inherent property of existence of matter, and therefore the person does not necessarily pass all stages of development: if you have the appropriate conditions, it may appear at once.

On the "charging" water on television or in the process of prayer.

When Alan Chumak, waving his hands in the TV, then the properties of water is really me, that just makes it not Chumak, but the one who sits at the screen and is configured for a miracle. If some of this man to put the sensor, it will record the changes. And the effect is usually without Chumak. For example, a religious man reads a prayer - and the water changes its structure. Hundreds of such experiments.

Of course, different people have different results, a lot depends on ability, but there are real phenomena. For example, one woman managed so podeysvovat on water, that she resembled the taste of the wine. However, long before it was doing the same Jesus ... It is understandable and human exposure to various tsiliteley: we are 80% of water.

Traditional science and miracles.

Practice explains the effect of "miracle" mysterious action biofield, and academics who are trying to deal with this field, all the explanation is already known. As a result, the picture becomes clearer not. A study in the framework of existing notions nothing new to offer.

For example, how explain the fact that when a person affected by the electromagnetic field at the same water in a glass, located thousands of miles away in Novosibirsk, where this action does not affect the glass of water, standing on a table in front of the experimenter in Moscow?

According to the physics of the signal intensity decreases in proportion to the square of the distance. It turns out that from low-level radiation to Novosibirsk must reach a "zero signal".

Today, it proved the reality of telepathic influence. In this situation, distant-adsisnoe impact can be seen in the same context as the impact and the situation typical for water. In this case we can assume that all our physical space is a medium consisting of cells that are capable of delivering. In the space does not extend the wave, but is a chain reaction on the principle of dominoes. Even without telepathy, it is clear that the light from stars that is visible to everyone, can not go in a vacuum, has been proved that there is a transmission medium of the physical vacuum.

The impact on human rights.

Today there is no doubt the impact of therapists on patient rights. The question of the mechanisms of such effects remains open.

Today, more than 10 years in Moscow, the federal research center clinical trial of traditional methods of diagnosis and treatment, in which there is a corresponding problem laboratory, centered on the study "tsilitelskih" methods. Ministry of Health has authorized this problem laboratory to check the ability of traditional healers.

Considered the situation shows that we all affect each other, often unconsciously. You come to a stranger - and often arises instinctive sympathy or antipathy. It does not depend on appearance, but from the interaction of bio. The task of Laboratory - find out how the field specific healer. This worked fairly reliable tests. For example, one of them - biological, it is based on the behavior of ciliates in the water, which affects a healer.

Checked a few dozen people, and found that every second of these ciliates died. A certain wise woman, even offended, when we called it a dead water ... But this does not mean that half of the audited - charlatans. Different diseases require different actions, and if the healer does not undertake to treat all of everything, but knows the limits of their capabilities, it can help the patient.

Science today can already explain the principles of healing. But many scientists have taken a wait. However, the appearance of the first doctoral dissertation in biology, which refers to the memory of water Valentinovitch Stanislav Zenin, now the situation started to change.

Why the world is immune to new knowledge?

Here the situation is purely social and psychological. For example, a professor for many years published work, received awards and titles, he has developed a scientific school.

And then someone else, not so eminent, proves that the old truths that are so well fed all his life, should be reviewed ... Who likes this?

After all, most people in the world to defend their own ignorance. We must patiently for all workshops to talk about innovation and attract supporters.

Today, for example, the presidium of RAS does not want to admit even such accepted notions as structured water. But with pundits enthusiastically tems are struggling with "pseudoscience", although this researcher will never say that to say this can not be, at best, he says another, what is known to modern science on this issue .. But much more is different: there is no explanation why - and that does not exist at all ...

To understand the problem, it takes years or even life, but to deny that's enough of a polemical ardor. Yes, just hard to talk with someone who knows everything in advance and identify their favorite hypothesis with his own reputation. If the hypothesis is untrue, anyway, he will defend her not to look like a fool.

What type of water should you drink in the light of its "sensibility"?

The best water - spring water. Water from the well after treatment is far from that.

Today found a way to change its structure. Built by the appropriate corrector. Should the issue of establishing its production.

As for "proof-space" (table of the pyramid, the pyramid-monsters), then here is again not in the pyramids, and the sensitivity of the water.

Another Mendeleev knew that experiments with water - a capricious thing: it participates in chemical reactions in the environment where everything has a value - from the cosmic background to our behavior. Intensified spots on the sun - and this feeling is not only we, but also water. Time and place also influence the parameters of the reaction: in other laboratories, other people - and the results have slightly different from previous ones. Even if the room where the experiment, go down a new man, the electromagnetic background of the room change. This is proved experimentally.

The state space affects not only people, but in general all the buildings and objects.

Naturally, my indicators and water and blood.

Is this good for a man or not? Who better, because the structure of water in each organism has its own, the program is set from birth. It has long been observed that it is better to live in those places where the homeland of your ancestors, because it is this environment shaped your WATER MATRIX. No wonder the fish are spawning there, where they are born.

Moreover: all that surrounds us, leaves its mark in space.

For example, in the experiments had to fight the harmful electromagnetic radiation from the computer, put the sensor with water, which is fixed. Then the computer was removed, put the new sensor. Indications of his were the same as if the computer is worth it!

Remained its electromagnetic phantom, and the environment has changed. But if we take a candle, as do witches, and hold on to this place - all normal, because the fire - a strong factor, which clears space.

Just noticed that the strong bioenergy may create phantoms mentally, and they can even fix.

When medicine becomes a science?

To medicine became a science, must develop criteria for evaluating "healing items" to understand the usefulness or harmfulness of their relation to each individual.

To develop all this possible, but here of course, need to work hard.

When a country doctor intuitively, because of his experience, he felt that it suited the patient. Now we are only reaching the point to decipher this intuitive component. If I can do it, an era of scientific medicine, and yet we are not very different from traditional healers. After all, medicine - an empirical science, and medicine to help an average of 80 per cent of cases, and for the remaining patients have repeatedly tested the drug can be poison.

And who is to blame? Physicists who do not want to do, for example, deciphering the information state of water MATRIX individual.

This matrix is different not only in humans but also in plants.

Why do all plants need so warm water? Because it is a pure information sheet, it is suitable for everyone. If the same plants with different patterns of water, they are incompatible and can not grow together.

It sometimes happens that one lady flowers constantly in bloom, and a neighbor - no. They all do seem to be the same, but the first - and still be happy. In this case the person mentally recharge water, and plant it feels.

And very important: when we drink water, then it should be done with good thoughts. Only in this case, it would benefit us.
